

EXPLORE & DEVELOP

TWO INTERNATIONAL

These are Niki and her brother Teo. They are very special kids. In general, people have got one nationality, but they've got three and four! Teo has got three: Argentinian, Brazilian and Greek. Niki has got four. She is Argentinian, Chilean, Brazilian and Greek. Now, they've got their home in Chile. They speak four languages, too.

Why? Because their mum is Brazilian, their dad is Argentinian, and their grandparents are from Brazil and Greece.

Their Greek grandparents' home is in Argentina.

Their Brazilian grandparents are in Brazil.

They've got a house in Rio de Janeiro.

Niki and Teo speak Spanish, Portuguese, Greek, and English (at school).

Niki is 11 and she's got brown eyes and long brown hair. Teo is 14; he's very tall and slim, and has got short red hair.

INTERVIEW

IS YOUR FAMILY MULTICULTURAL?

A multicultural family has got members from more than one country or culture. In big cities, for example London and New York, multicultural families are very common.

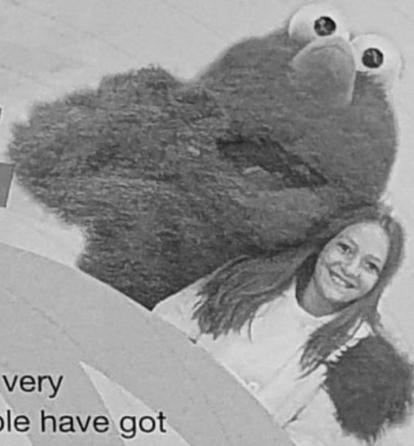

THE WATSONS

'Hi, I'm Tray Watson and I'm from a multicultural family. My dad, Bill, is American and my mum, Hiroko, is Japanese. My brother Tommy and I are half-American and half-Japanese. We've got two Japanese grandparents, one American grandparent and one Italian grandparent.

I'm 12 and my brother is 1. I'm not very tall. I've got brown hair and brown eyes. Tommy's got very short dark hair and he's got big brown eyes.

We've got a house in Los Angeles, California. It's got a small garden but we've got a tree-house on a pine tree.

At home we speak Japanese with mum and English with dad. Dad's Japanese isn't very good.
